

F
317
.W9P5

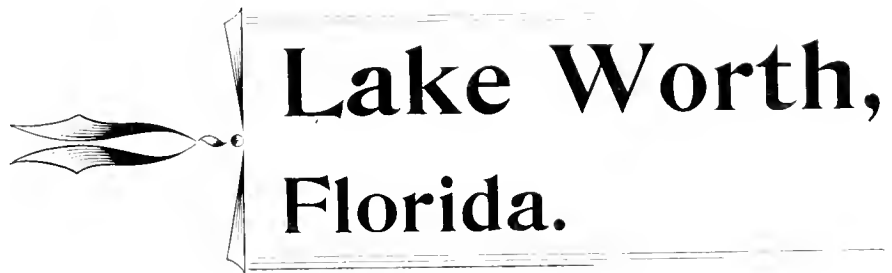

Lake Worth

1000 1000 1000

Photographic Reproductions of Views on : : : :

THE ALBERTYPE CO. N. Y.

PUBLISHED BY RUSSELL & FUDGE, PALM BEACH, FLORIDA.

COPYRIGHTED BY RUSSELL & FUDGE, 1894.

455

21

F317
.W9P5

THE Lake Worth region, justly termed the "American Riviera," is now so well known to those who wish to find a safe refuge from the frost and frowning winter skies of the North that little need be said in its praise. On the eastern shore of Lake Worth is a succession of landscape gardens and beautiful cottages owned by those whose cultivated tastes have led them to make a home where nature seconds every effort to enhance her charms. Half a mile from the Lake the Atlantic Ocean affords excellent bathing and salt water fishing, and from the proximity of the Gulf Stream, which here makes its closest approach to the United States coast, the water is always at a higher temperature than is usual at Northern seaside resorts in midsummer.

Every facility is afforded the tourist for bathing, rowing, sailing, hunting and fresh and salt water fishing.

On the west side of the lake are the railway stations and business centers, as well as many beautiful homes, and inland the great everglades with its fresh water lakes filled with fish, and jungles abounding with game.

THE ROBERT OCEAN AVENUE
PALM BEACH, FLORIDA

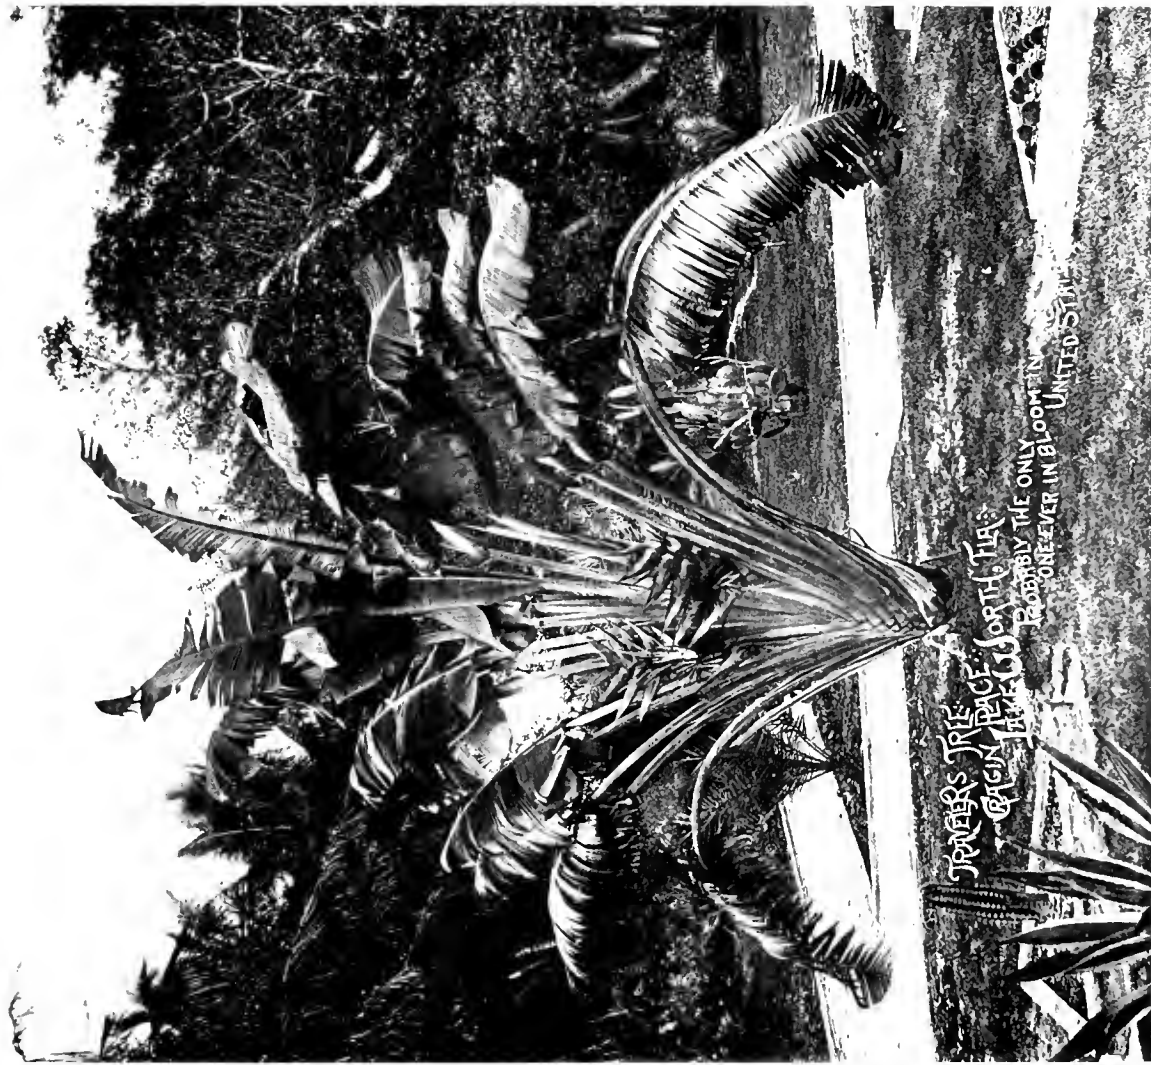

CACTUS GARDEN
(800 VARIETIES)
ORANGE GROVE
(1000 FEET)
LAKE NORTH FLORIDA

TRAVELERS TREE
CAROLINA PALM

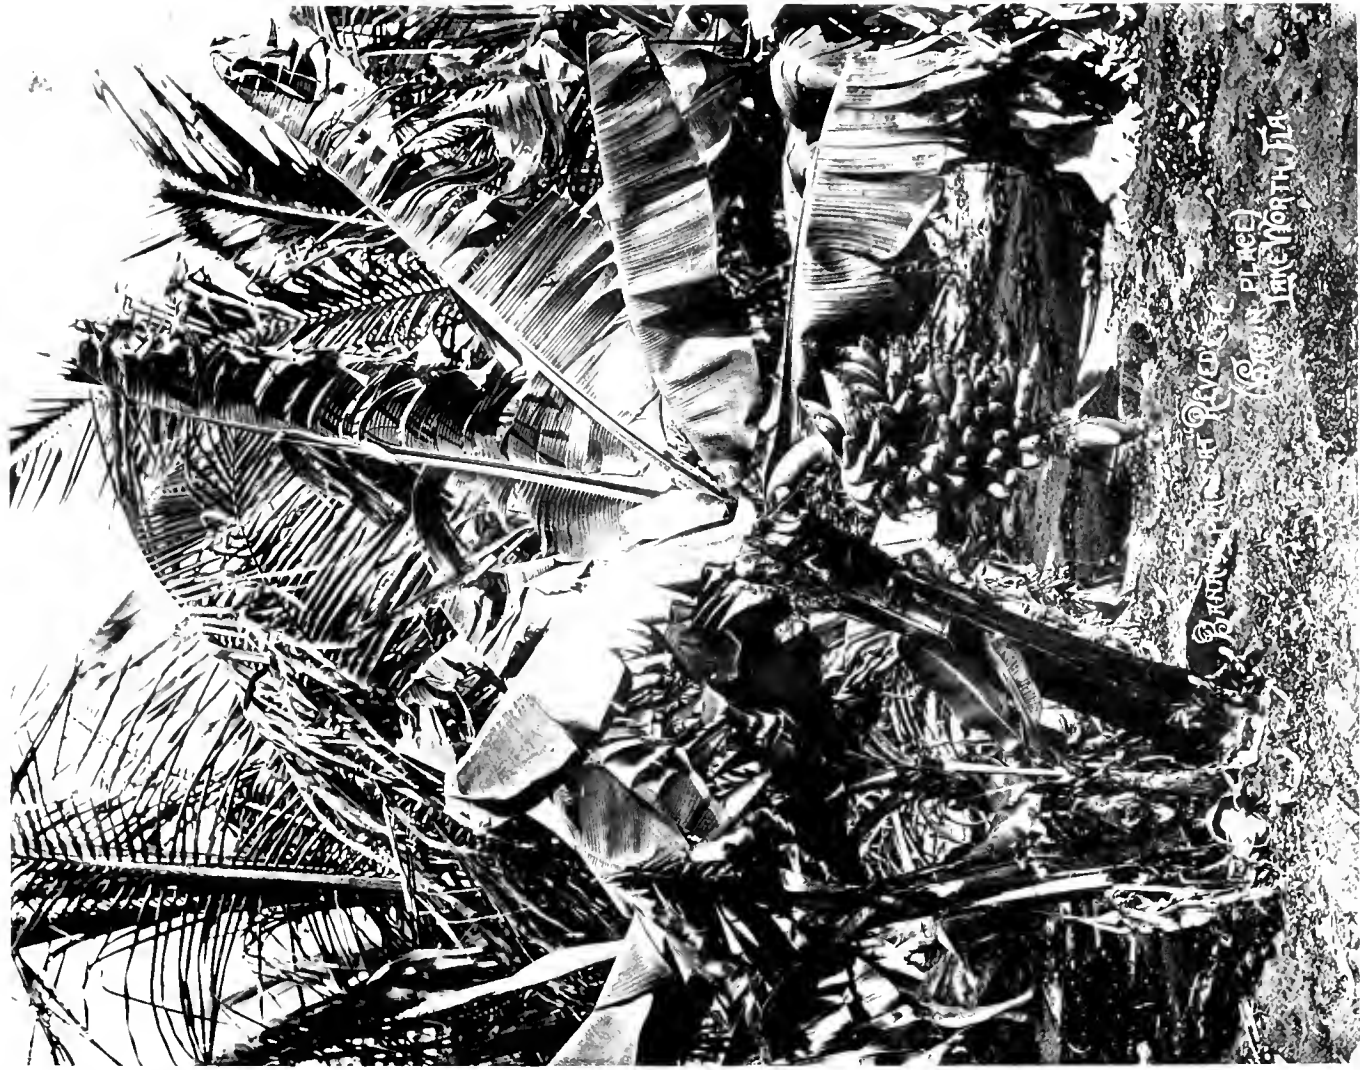

POSSIBLY THE ONLY BLOOMING
ONE EVER IN BLOOMING
UNITED STATES

BEARING DATE PALM
HOTEL ROYAL POINCIANA GROUNDS
P. H. B. 1914

Broken banana leaves
(Broken place)
May North, 1911

Hotel Royal, Port-au-Prince
Petit-Beau, Haïti

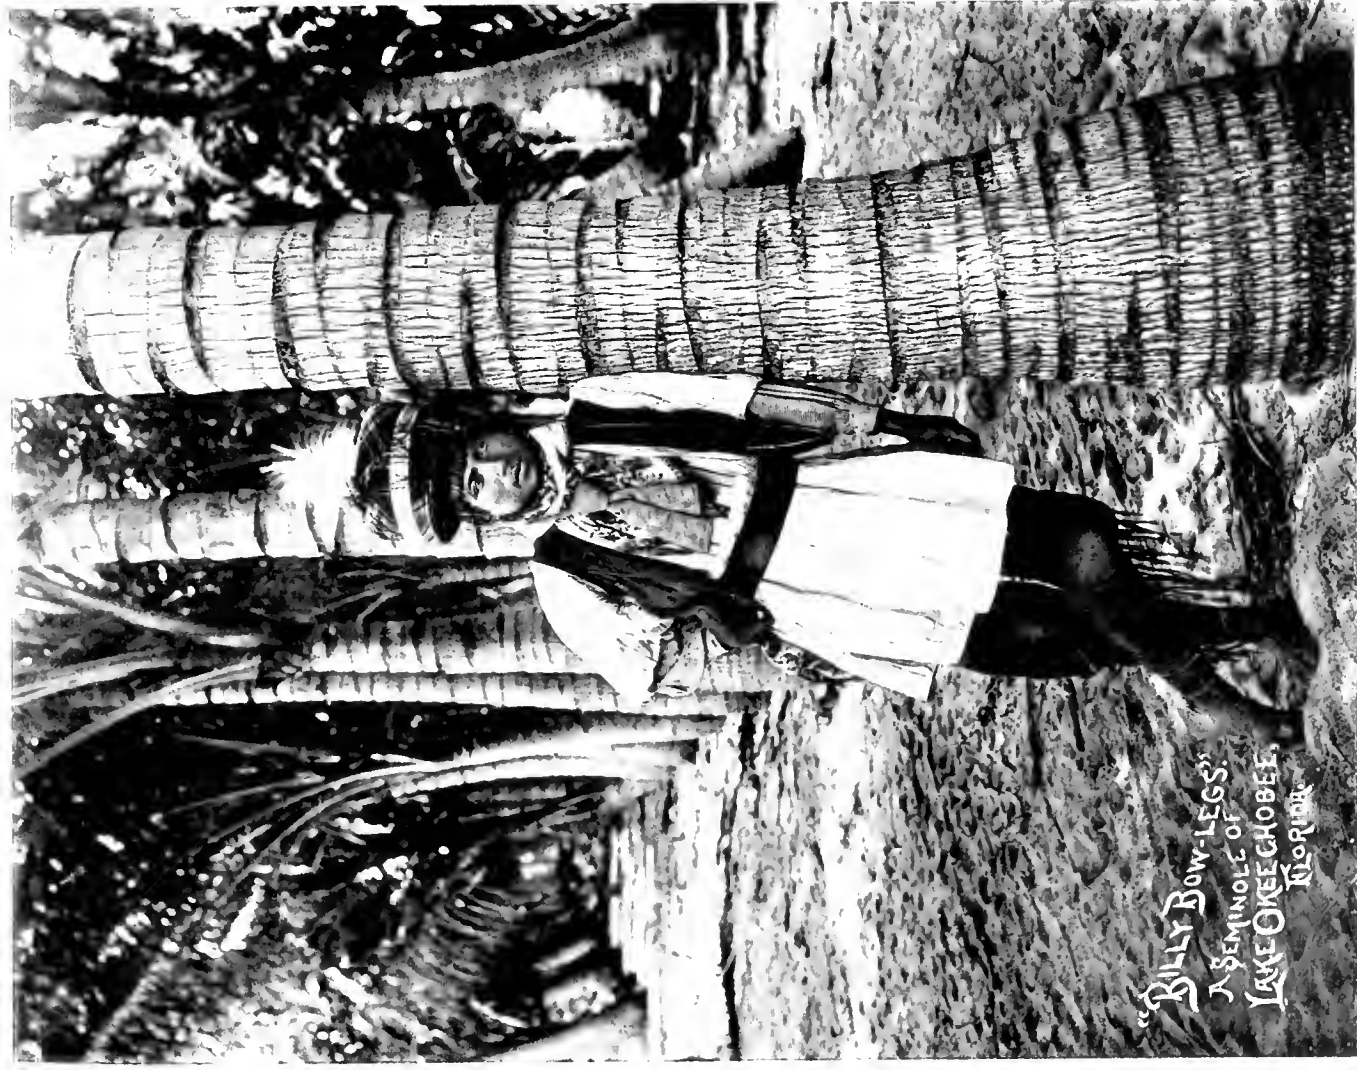

LAURENT BEE
ON THE WORTH, FL.
BANYAN RUBBER OR INDIAN FIG TREE

000J143227A

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS